Grant Title: WOODROW WILSON DOCTORAL DISSERTATION FELLOWSHIP IN WOMEN’S STUDIES

Area of Research: Research about women that crosses disciplinary, regional, or cultural boundaries.

Application Deadline: October, 2006

Amount: Up to $3,000

Length of Support: 1 year.

Eligible applicants: Ph.D. candidates at institutions in the United States who will complete their dissertations during the fellowship year.

Agency/ Department: Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation

Summary: The foundation supports the final year of dissertation writing for Ph.D. candidates in the humanities and social sciences whose work addresses topics of women and gender in interdisciplinary and original ways. The women’s studies focus encourages original and significant research about women that crosses disciplinary, regional, or cultural boundaries. Previous Fellows have explored such topics as women’s role in African-American adult literacy, militarism and the education of American women, the influence of grassroots entrepreneurship on gender roles in India, the evolution of women’s movements in Eastern Europe after the Cold War, and the dynamics of employment and childbearing.
